MISSION COOPERATIVE APPEAL

This Sunday, Father Michael Davitti, a member of the Xaverian Missionary Fathers, will speak at all the Masses on behalf of the Mission Cooperative Appeal. Today, over 700 Xaverian priests, brothers, and sisters bring God's love to people on every continent, in nineteen countries around the world. The Xaverian Missionaries have received the cooperation of the people with whom they work. It is the loyal support of generous friends in the United States which enables them to increase and multiply their works of mercy. We can share in these mission efforts through prayer, financial aid, and through encouraging young men and women to answer the call to be missionaries. A second collection will be taken up to support the work of the St. Francis Xavier Foreign Mission Society. Thank you for supporting the missionary work of the Church.

FOURTEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

In this Sunday's Gospel, we find Jesus' invitation: "Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest" (Matthew 11:28). When Jesus says this, he has before him the people he meets every day on the streets of Galilee: very many simple people, the poor, the sick, sinners, those who are marginalized.... These people always followed him to hear his word — a word that gave hope! Jesus' words always give hope! — and even just to touch a hem of his garment. Jesus himself sought out these tired, worn out crowds like sheep without a shepherd (cf. Matthew 9:35-36), and he sought them out to proclaim to them the Kingdom of God and to heal many of them in body and spirit. Now he calls them all to himself: "Come to me", and he promises them relief and rest.

This invitation of Jesus reaches to our day, and extends to the many brothers and sisters oppressed by life's precarious conditions, by existential and difficult situations and at times lacking valid points of reference. In the poorest countries, but also on the outskirts of the richest countries, there are so many weary people, worn out under the unbearable weight of neglect and indifference. Indifference: human indifference causes the needy so much pain! And worse, the indifference of Christians! On the fringes of society so many men and women are tried by indigence, but also by dissatisfaction with life and by frustration. So many are forced to emigrate from their homeland, risking their lives. Many more, every day, carry the weight of an economic system that exploits human beings, imposing on them an unbearable "yoke", which the few privileged do not want to bear. To each of these children of the Father in heaven, Jesus repeats: "Come to me, all of you". But he also says it to those who have everything, but whose heart is empty and without God. Even to them, Jesus addresses this invitation: "Come to me". Jesus' invitation is for everyone. But especially for those who suffer the most.

Jesus promises to give rest to everyone, but he also gives us an invitation, which is like a commandment: "Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me; for I am gentle and lowly in heart" (Matthew 11:29). The "yoke" of the Lord consists in taking on the burden of others with fraternal love. Once Christ's comfort and rest is received, we are called in turn to become rest and comfort for our brothers and sisters, with a docile and humble attitude, in imitation of the Teacher. Docility and humility of heart help us not only to take on the burden of others, but also to keep our personal views, our judgments, our criticism or our indifference from weighing on them.

SAINT KATERI TEKAKWITHA – 14 JULY

The daughter of a Mohawk chief and an Algonquin woman, Kateri was orphaned in a smallpox epidemic that left her partly blind and disfigured. She was baptized by a French missionary visiting her village in present-day New York State. Her faith and refusal to marry caused trouble and she fled to an Indian community near Montréal, where she was revered by French and Indians alike for her mystical gifts and kindness. At her canonization in 2012, Pope Benedict XVI prayed, "Saint Kateri, Protectress of Canada and the first native American saint, we entrust to you the renewal of the faith in the first nations and in all of North America! May God bless the first nations!" The "Lily of the Mohawk" is the patron of Native Americans, refugees, and the disabled.
